BUFFALO TO INVADE CLINTON ON SATURDAY FOR SEASON'S OPENER OF HAMILTON TEAM

Buff and Blue Squad Set For Initial Encoun'er

CAPT. McGEE HURT

MacLaren and Embler Also Injured; Guard Berths Uncertain

Opening their 1933 football season, the Buff and Blue players, who have been busily drilling during the past two weeks, will test their mettle against the Buffalo Bisons here on Saturday afternoon.

Seasoned by their initial battle with Niagara last Saturday, the Bisons will come here to meet a Hamilton team which remains untried and whose reserve strength lies largely in sophomore players who have not yet appeared in intercollegiate competition. Despite the handicap of inexperience, however, the Hill varsity with such backs as Andy Scobie, a "natural" in the sport, and Alex McKenzie, who ran wild last season, and veteran linesmen such as Captain Bill McGee, Jack Byrnes, and Dunc Edwards, bears promise of being the best Winters-coached machine to be turned out in several years.

Coach Arthur Winters, who is exceptionally pleased with the unusually large turnout for the varsity squad, has one puzzle to solve before Saturday's game—whom shall he intrust with a guard position? The running attack this year will require guards good not only on the defense, but also skilled in running interference. Coach Winters partially solved this difficulty by shifting Bill Jones, veteran of last year's team, from the backfield to the line, but he has not definitely selected Jones' partner, although Bob White will probably start in that position on Saturday.

When the initial whistle of the season blows on Saturday, three of the first string group may be on the sidelines. Captain McGee will be unable to participate unless an injury to his teeth, incurred last week, heals quickly, while young Bob MacLaren, sophomore half-back, may not yet be fully recovered from a severe abdominal injury. It is likewise doubtful whether John Embler will be able to resume his berth on the forward wall, because of a fractured jaw which has kept him from practice during the past week.

In a final test of the candidiates who have been practicing during the past half-month in hopes of a varsity berth, Coach Winters divided the groups evenly in a full-length battle Saturday afternoon. The "Orange" group which included Dunc Edwards, Sonny McKenzie, and Jason Morrow, as a nucleus, defeated the "White" shirts who numbered Andy Scobie, Grier Hand, and Bob Peck in their lineup, by a 21 to 7 score.

Dunc Edwards, playing at right end, created havoc among the "White Shirts", blocking two kicks, thus accounting for two touchdowns. The lone goal of the losers was made after Grier Hand, sophomore end, snared a long pass and was downed on the one-yard line.

Although Coach Winters has not definitely selected a first string unit for Saturday's contest the following have been assured of their berths: Hand and Edwards, ends; Jones and possibly White, guards; Burns, center; Scobie, fullback and McKenzie, half-back. The quarterback assignment will probably be divided between Fritz Crego, George Dotzauer and Jason Morrow, while the other backfield position may go to either Harding, LeFevre or MacLaren. Harding will probably start the game due to his greater experience. The starting tackles have not yet been selected, although if Captain McGee's injury heals, he will occupy one of the tackle positions.

MUSICAL ARTS PLANS FOR '33-4 ARE ANNOUNCED

Shute and Saunders Ask Financial Aid for Season

The Musical Arts Society was started on another season when Professor Shute appeared in Chapel to appeal for subscribers. He out-lined the program of the coming year and described its purpose in detail for the Freshmen. The cost for student membership will remain $2, as in previous years. However, it is necessary for the committee to know definitely how many subscribers there will be so that they can arrange the year's program.

Professor Shute also announced that George Rutherford, '35, and William Weld, '35, had been added to the governing board of the society. The other two undergraduate members are Coleman Burke, '34, and William Roehrick, '34. The three faculty members of the governing board are Professors Shute and Fancher, and Dr. A. P. Saunders.

Until the response to this appeal and that made by Dr. Saunders has been ascertained, there will be no definite announcement of the number of concerts or the names of artists who will appear.

Yearlings Defeated In Traditional Row

Despite a discouraging drizzle, considerable zest on both sides was displayed at the traditional freshman-sophomore row, which took place on the opening Thursday of college. While the freshmen, under the leadership of James Hands, held a council of war within the chapel, the sophomores strung up the flag safely out of reach of anything human. The cries of the impatient audience and the taunts of their rivals finally drew the swarm of freshmen from their hiding place. The battle was furious while it lasted, but in the end it was decided in favor of the sophomores. The "Slimers" will pay the price of their defeat in being unable to wear knickers or red in any form until after Spring recess.

The flag rush was followed by the wrestling matches. In the lightweight class, George Bates, '36, defeated Britten, '37; Gould, '36, threw Crossman, '37, in the 160 pound class; and the freshmen scored their sole victory when Ruhl, '37, defeated Kingsbury, '36, in the heavyweight match. The Sophomore relay team, made up of LeFevre, Swartout, Beebe, and Cronin, outdistanced the freshman aggregation composed of Darrigrand, Branch, Drew, and Ludlum, in the 440 event. Superior numbers favored the "Slimers" in the tug-of-war, in which they were victorious over the second year men. The sophomores took their revenge, however, in promptly chasing their adversaries off the grass and beginning the active enforcement of other freshmen rules.

President To Receive Freshmen Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening at 8:00 p. m. the President's annual reception of the freshman class will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ferry.

As in former years the reception will be informal with no particular entertainment to be presented, as is done at the annual senior class reception in the Spring. The President's guests of the class of '36 will simply meet Dr. and Mrs. Ferry, and some of the members of the Hill Faculty and their wives on a less formal footing than that of the classroom.

Scholarship Honors For Past Year Read

Ninety-Nine Men Achieve Credit Averages or Better

At the first chapel of the year, on Thursday, September 21, President Ferry read the report of the Committee on Record of Scholarship, which listed individual standings for the three upperclasses for the year ending June, 1933. The following are the honor men from the various classes:

High Honor—Messrs. Bengloff, Burke, R. L. Jones, Moses, and E. E. Yelton.

Honor—Messrs. Donley, Fehrer, Kittell, Klimek, Mathias, Neff, Waddell.

Credit—Barden, Barry, Buck, Ciccarelli, Clay, Collins, Earl, Embler, Fitter, Folley, Fraser, Hemstreet, Homans, Kennedy, Lambrecht, Marketos, Martin, Messinger, C. S. Miller, T. R. Miller, Miner, Murphy, Nichols, Noon, Roehrick, Taylor, H. B. White, Wilson.

1935

High Honor—Messrs. J. L. Brown, Waters.

Honor—Ahearn, Clough, Dengler, Linowitz, T. W. Smith, Stackel, Van Allen, D. C. Yelton.

Credit—R. T. Babcock, Bicknell, Bremer, Cairns, Chambliss, Clare, Dale, Ferry, Holstein, A. G. Jones, H. R. Jones, Mahady, Ostrander, C. I. Reed, Weld, White.

1936

High Honor—Burgess, Eldridge, Rearick, Vandermeulen.

Honor—Cunningham, Gatland, Thomas, Van Alstine, Vander-Honowaart.

Credit—Angelico, O. C. Beakes, Carruth, Conley, Connor, Coon, De Graff, Durkee, F. B. Govern, R. J. Govern, Halstead, House, Jameson, Keane, LaGrange, Livadas, KcKee, Millham, Minor, Montgomery, Norris, Rowles.

Registration Reaches 469 For New Year

In spite of the decreasing enrollments of many of the colleges and universities of the country, Hamilton has again begun a new year with one of the largest undergraduate bodies in its history. Four hundred and sixty-nine men have registered for the coming year at the office.

The class of 1933 enters its final year with a membership of 80 men. The junior class has 89 men in regular standing. As is usually the case, the upper classes are only about half as large as the lower classes.

The sophomore class is composed of 140 men and the freshman class is starting with 160 men. The majority of men in the entering class are from high schools rather than preparatory schools. Most of the freshmen have indicated their choice for the Bachelor of Arts degree, one hundred of them having chosen this degree as their aim.

Albany Academy again leads the preparatory schools in the number of men entering Hamilton this year, having three men enrolled in the freshman class out of the thirty from preparatory schools.

The following private schools are represented by two men in the entering class: Nichols, Loomis, Brunswick, Hoosac, Haverford, Berkshire, Newark Academy, and Poly Prep.

SUBSCRIPTION DRIVE SHORT OF NEEDED 250

Time For Solicitation Extended During 3 More Days

NEW SYSTEM BEGUN

Pi Delta Epsilon Offers Easy Payment Plan to Combat Financial Slump

Marked by a discouragingly small amount of subscriptions which necessitated a prolongation of the solicitation period, the blanket subscription drive ended temporarily last Saturday with only 100 subscriptions paid for either partially or in full. Approximately 100 more pledges to buy in the near future were received.

The drive has thus far been conducted by the nine sophomores competing for managerial positions on the business staffs of the three publications under the direction of Jerome C. Shaver, '34, business manager of Life.

The general unsatisfactoriness of the plan as worked last year has led Pi Delta Epsilon to formulate a new and cheaper plan. The system of last year was unsatisfactory to both buyer and publication managers because of the uncertainty of both delivery of the publications and manner of payment by the subscriber. As a result, many yet unpaid-for subscriptions remain on the books of Pi Delta Epsilon, and the need was seen for a new system which would provide a guarantee to the publications of payment, inasmuch as the general excellence of each publication depends on the amount of money received.

The plan as proposed this year by the journalistic fraternity calls for a payment of $6.50. This provides the subscriber with the full number of issues of both Hamilton Life and the Continental, the new magazine which embodies the best features of the "Hamilton Literary Magazine" and the now defunct "Royal Gaboon", and which is being edited by William G. Roehrick, '34, and Daniel G. Kennedy, '34, selected last spring to be this year's editors of the literary magazine. It also guarantees to the subscriber a copy of the 1933 "Hamiltonian", the year-

House Party Date Set for October 21

The week-end of October 21, the date submitted to the Faculty by the Interfraternity Council as the undergraduate choice for Fall House Party, was yesterday approved by the Faculty in its weekly meeting, held at 4:00 o'clock in Buttrick Hall.

This time was chosen by the various Hill groups as the most suitable week-end from a choice of two possible ones, October 21 and November 4. The latter date was voted out as being too late in the Fall and therefore almost certain to be cold.

Cross-Country and Soccer Begin Work

Soccer Prospects Best in Years; First Game Saturday

From a squad of thirty likely-looking candidates, Coach Gelas is rounding out what promises to be the best soccer team which the Hill has seen in several years. Tentatively scheduling Cornell for the season opener here this Saturday, the team will play Williams, there, on October 14, with Cortland and St. Stephens journeying here at later dates.

Although no definite lineup has been selected, it is expected that on the record of last year's experience, Captain Ferry, Lindley, Bicknell, and Dennison will compose the nucleus of the team. But in frequent scrimmages which have been held, the juniors, Weld and Jones, and the sophomores, Fenninger, Kingsbury, Latham, Beakes, Laux have shown up to good advantage, and are making strong bide for permanent births.

Pointing to the Conference meet at Geneva November 1, Captain Schwartz and his harriers have been pounding around the campus in anticipation of a hard season. With a creditable record to live up to, the squad of eight men must strive to make up for losses in graduation, although two places in Schwartz and Jones. are strong.

The opening date of the season is October 14, when St. Lawrence journeys here, and the second home meet is the following Saturday, with Rochester. On October 28 the team travels to Hobart, and on the successive date to Geneva, also, for the Conference meet. Middlebury, a new opponent, closes the season here on November 11.

Hill Faculty Takes Part in Varied Activities Throughout Past Summer Vacation Period

Activities other than vacationing occupied the attentions of many members of the Hamilton College faculty during the past summer. European trips, transcontinental trips, and study both in Clinton and elsewhere were represented. Professors Ibbotson and Gordon went to Europe after the close of college, while Dr. and Mrs. Fitch returned from Greece at the end of July, having spent three weeks in Naples and Rome. Professor Super traveled to Mexico and Dr. Dale, Dr. Rouse, and Dr. King went to the West.

Many of the professors spent their time studying and doing research work in Clinton. Dr. A. P. Saunders collaborated with Dr. Stebbins of Colgate in doing work with hybrid peonies. Others remaining in Clinton included Drs. Patterson and McKinney, Hess and Butcher, who did general biologic research, Cameron and Nile, who reorganized the physics laboratory and wrote a new laboratory manual. Mr. Rogers spent some time in Clinton working on his master's thesis and did research work in the marine laboratory at Wood's Hole. Also in Clinton was Dr. Durham who wrote and studied the Greek Romantic lyrics. Dr. Bonham finished his chapter on "New York and the Civil War" for the 10 volume history of New York State. He also delivered a lecture before the N. Y. Historical Society at its meeting at Ticonderoga on the subject of "New York and the Election of 1860."

Professor Gordon toured several European countries, but spent most if his time studying in the libraries of Italy, which country he toured extensively. Professor Ibbotson spent three weeks in London and six week in Germany. While there he made his home at Wernigerade in the Harz Mountains. He made daily and weekly excursions to various parts of central and northern Germany by motor.

The beauty of the Moselle River and its tributaries gave him much enjoyment, as did visiting the old towns along the river. The city of Treves, at the head of the Moselle also occupied much of his attention. The cathedrals and their Romanesque type of architecture were of special interest to him, because their study was one of his principle aims.

Among some of the towns which Professor Ibbotson visited were Coblenz, where the Rhine and Moselle join, Cassel, Frankfort, Hanover and Bremen. The one thing which governed his itinerary was to gain a true picture of the Nazi Revolution by talking to people of all ranks, both in the government and out.

Dr. Dale and Dr. Rouse were both occupied with geological work. Dr. Rouse was Manager of the Princeton Research Party Base Camp at Red Lodge, Montana. The activities of this group included a detailed geologic study of the Beartooth-Bighorn Region in Montana and Wyoming. In addition to the geologic work, the expedition acted as host to the International Geologic Congress Excursion C2.

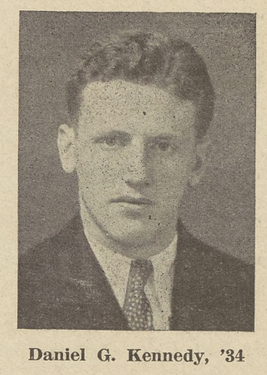
NINETY-TWO FRESHMEN FROM CLASS OF 150 PLEDGED TO HILL GROUPS DURING RUSHING TIME

Edits 'Continental'



Daniel G. Kennedy, '34

FIRST ISSUE OF 'CONTINENTAL' DURING PARTY

Hill's New Magazine to Be Issued Six Times A Year

Messrs. Roehrick and Kennedy, '34, are collaborating on the new publication which is to take the place of the Hamilton Literary Magazine and the Royal Gaboon. The name of the publication has been chosen after the name of Alexander Hamilton's army, and is to be called the Continental. There are to be six issues a year of the Continental, the first number of which will appear at House Party time. The editors are endeavoring to keep the tone of the magazine on a high plane, and the literary side of the magazine will predominate over the lighter and more humorous side.

An attractive cover design has already been obtained for the first issue, and the editors will try to make this publication a unique and interesting one. A new board will be formed in the near future and announcements of the board will appear later. Seth Craig is the business manager of the Continental and the present board consists of the old members of the Literary Magazine and the Royal Gaboon.

Murphy Gains Finals In Intercollegiates

Hamilton Two Man Team Takes Third in Eastern Tournament

With Richard T. Murphy, '33, captain and for two years undefeated star of the Buff and Blue tennis team, playing superlative tennis to carry off runner-up titles in both the Eastern and National Intercollegiate tennis tournaments last spring, and teaming with William E. Weld, '35, to win several rounds in doubles competition, Hamilton leaped to a new position of prominence in the world of intercollegiate tennis.

Seeded Number 1 in the Eastern Intercollegiates held at the beautiful Ardseley Club, Ardseley-on-the-Hudson, Murphy swept through four early round opponents without the loss of a set, only to become the victim of a final round upset when he lost to Albert Horton of Williams College in a greulling five set battle, 7-5, 1-6, 9-11, 6-4, 7-5. In winning the long third set at 11-9, the Hamilton player expended so much of his reserve, that in the final two sets he was unable to get to the net where he had been making most his points, and as a result Horton, a Williams three-sport captain, succeeded in outsteadying his opponent from the baseline.

Weld, in his first intercollegiate tournament, fell prey to Flynn, Princeton sophomore, 6-0, 6-1. But in the doubles competition where Murphy's steadiness helped to build up confidence in his partner, the Hamilton team advanced to the quarter finals by virtue of a first round bye and a three set victory over the representatives of Amherst. After winning the first set from Hawley and Swazye of N. Y. U., the Hamilton team dropped the next two, to lose a

Three Members of Upper Classes Pledged

LARGEST GROUP 11

Alpha Delta Phi, Psi Upsilon, And DKE Each Take Eleven Men

Ninety-two members of the class of 1937 were pledged to the eleven Hamilton fraternities during the rushing week which preceded the official opening of the college. Three members of upper classes who had not previously been affiliated with any Hamilton societies were also pledged, bringing the total number of pledges to ninety-five. This number is slightly smaller than last year in proportion to the size of the freshman clsas, but it is expected that many others who are not yet sufficiently acquainted with Hill crowds will express their intention of joining some fraternity before the fall term is over. The names of those pledged by each fraternity follows:

Alpha Delta Phi: John Cox, Port Chester; Bernhard Johnson, Riverside, Connecticut; Robert Barry, Evanston, Illinois; John Edwards, Greenwich Connecticut; Robert Hubbard, Camden; William Clark, Rockville Center; Gilbert Sprague, Rome; DeWitt Ludlum, Philadelphia; Isaac Sharpless, Rosemont, Pa.; Ward Locke, Utica, Griffith Jones, Bronxville.

Chi Psi: William Beatty, Ben Avon, Pa.; Albert Morrison, West Point; Harry Massoth, New Rochelle; Samuel Engs, Norton Heights, Conn.; Henry Estabrook, Fayetville; Robert Hall, Lewiston; William P. Clark, Evanston, Ill.; Hubert Pelott, Wilmette, Illinois.

Delta Upsilon: Karl Rinas, Roslyn, Long Island; Roy Wilcox, Old Forge; James Frear, New Hartford; Joseph Shaw, Utica; Robert Worden, Auburn; Francis Dillenbeck, Rensselear; Norman Foote, Saratoga Springs; John Miller, Claverack; John Wesenberg, Brooklyn; Harold Day, '36, Old Forge.

Delta Kappa Epsilon: George Beilby, Albany; Robert Branch, Manchester, N. H.; Frederick Griffin, Utica; Richard Hegner, Rochester; Donald Lewis, Brooklyn; Julian Payne, Sherburne; Norman Ruhle, Englewood, N. J.; Gilbert Shrade, Walden; Wesley VanLoan, Albany, Donald Walker, Hackensack, N. J.; William Woods, Greenwich, Conn.

Theta Delta Chi: Francis Brown, Lewiston; Marius Grosso, West Orange; Newman, '36; Arthur Goosen, Gloversville; Edwin Meyers, Syracuse; James Hands, Rutherford, N. J.; Robert Montgomery, New Rochelle; Richard Hallock, Brooklyn; John Henninger, Westfield; John Tufts, Verona; Moore, Utica.

SAVE YOUR PUBLICATIONS!

Undergraduates of Hamilton College have always prided themselves upon a large amount of what is somewhat euphemistically termed "college spirit", and let us fervently hope that they may always be able to do so. It is a common sight to see a group of students hoarsely yelling encouragement to a team which is being beaten and must itself realize that its chances for victory are slim. Yet we continue to cheer them on—to defeat, perhaps, but with a wholehearted support which figuratively seems to thumb its nose at the modern cynical and apathetic idea of college life.

But do we extend our enthusiasm to other fields? Embarassing as it may seem, we must frankly admit that we do not. This year Pi Delta Epsilon is offering to the student body a composite or blanket subscription to the three major publications for the princely sum of six dollars and fifty cents. To simplify matters even more, arrangements have been made whereby the price of the subscription may be sub-divided into three installments, payable at the College Store. And yet, initial returns from the subscription drive indicate that only one hundred, or less than one-fourth the entire student body, have signed their names to blanket subscription orders, while as many more have agreed to do likewise in the near future.

A publication tax to be levied on every member of the student body is, of course, the solution. This is the method in vogue at most colleges, and it would effectively rid student editors and business managers of their financial worries. But although such an athletic tax is paid annually by each student, it has been decided that such a plan is not feasible for Hamilton. Consequently, the very life of the publications depends upon the good-will of the individual student, and it is to him that this plea is directed.

It would be easy enough at this point to wander into a long discussion of student managers, student editors, class-published annuals, and so forth ad infinitum. But surely this would be a waste of time. The student must realize that he has some responsibilities in the matter, that he should aid in the support of these publications which so definitely concern him. But does he think of this when he neglects to sign? There seems to be a conviction lurking in the mind of every undergraduate that the blanket subscription is a fiendish means of obtaining his money, concocted by the financial wizards of Pi Delta Epsilon for the further replenishment of their already well-lined pockets. Rather, we would like to point out that the general excellence of a publication depends upon the support given through subscriptions. Unless there is marked increase in the number of subscriptions, it will be necessary for the editors of this year's Hamiltonian to issue a yearbook which will reflect no credit on either the class or the editors themselves. It is unfortunate, but it is unavoidable. There seems to be the eternal money element in everything.

an exclusive signed contract

During the past ten years, the majority of young men's styles that have later become nationally popular, had their start at Yale, Princeton, or Harvard Universities. The camel's hair coat, the trench coat, tab-collared shirts, etc. etc....all were taken up throughout the country after they had been worn for a few months by the men at the leading universities.

We have found that there is one custom tailor and haberdasher who is counted as "top" by the men who are themselves "top" in athletic and social affairs.

We have made an exclusive contract through which we are able to show you exact duplicates of everything this leading custom tailor and haberdasher is showing ....exactly when he shows it.

There are many young men in Hamilton who want the things worn by the leaders at these and other leading universities. We have created a department to meet the demands of these young men. Please come in and see this merchandise.

VARIED ACTIVITIES INTEREST FACULTY

This was composed of 45 geologists representing 16 foreign countries. The Congress spent three days in the Beartooth-Bighorn Region. Dr. Rouse personally made a study of "The Relation between Tectonics and Instrusions of Porphyries in the Beartooth Mountains." This work was done in conjunction with Dr. Harry H. Hess of Princeton University. In connection with this work an old, extinct volcanic crater, heretofore unknown, was discovered. The Billings Gazette says "the volcano is believed to have been active at the time the dinosaur was being replaced by the first mammals. At this rate, it would be between 65 and 100 million years old. Great importance is attached to the discovery of this prehistoric crater for the part it may play in the substantiation of the theory that the Beartooth Mountains were pushed up by a gigantic "blister" which was broken by the eruption of numerous small volcanoes." The party was in the field from June 7 to September 1, and covered an area of 400 miles.

Immediately after the close of college in June, Dr. Dale went to the Adirondacks to carry on a survey with the N. Y. State Geologic Survey. On July 18, the International Congress was entertained here. Its members were rom many European countries and such Universities as Prague, Buenos Aires and Quebec. Dr. Dale then started across the continent studying such sections as Mt. Hood, Oregon which he climbed, Red Lodge, Montana, Yellowstone National Park, The Painted Desert, Grand Canyon, Petrified Forest and Torquoise Mountains. He purchased many beautiful, colored lantern slides of these sections for the laboratory. At Pasadena, California he met The International Geologic Congress Class, which was composed of 53 members and climbed to the Mt. Wilson Observatory, Santa Monico Hills and Ranch Le Breau, Los Cerrillo in New Mexico. The specimens which Dr. Dale gathered will be placed in the Geology Laboratory and also will be exchanged with some of the European Universities.

A vigorous protest against the idea, widely discussed in college publications, that politics in America is "peculiarly dirty," was made by Norman Thomas in a lecture given at Union College.

Decagon First in Scholastic Ratings

The scholastic standings of the various fraternities, which were released by the office recently show a marked change in the standings of the crowds. The college average also jumped about one percent. Decagon was in first place again this year with an average of 81.15 as compared to 79.82 of the previous year.

One of the greatest jumps was that made by Lambda Chi Alpha, whose average of 77.629 enabled them to climb from ninth to third. They were closely followed by T. K. E., who retained their old post of fourth in the college standings. The Theta Delts also held their position of the previous year at second with an average of 78.13. Another notable change was in the Chi Psi average. For the 1931-1932 season they were in tenth place, but last year they were able to nose out the Dekes for fifth place.

The Neutrals slumped to seventh, just below the Dekes who were in sixth place this year as compared to third the year before. E. L. S. also slid two places downward to eighth, as did the Beta Kappas, who went to ninth. Another fraternity to lose ground was the Alpha Delts, which slid down to tenth. The three last places remained identical with the 1931-32 standings with D. U. in eleventh place, Sigma Phi in twelfth place and Psi Upsilon at the bottom. However, each of these fraternities showed a slight rise in their averages.

In the class averages the seniors again led the field, followed in order by the classes of '34, '35, and '36. The seniors, however, had better than a two percent lead on the present seniors.

The fraternity averages:

Decagon	81.15
Theta Delta Chi	78.13
Lambda Chi Alpha	77.629
Tau Kappa Epsilon	77.625
Chi Psi	77.47
Delta Kappa Epsilon	77.13
Neutrals	76.17
E. L. S.	75.59
Beta Kappa	75.01
Alpha Delta Phi	74.73
Delta Upsilon	73.99
Sigma Phi	73.77
Psi Upsilon	71.94

Business Managerial Competition Begins

Inaugurating the drive for blanket subscriptions, nine sophomores last week began the competition for managerial positions on the three Hamilton publications. The competitions will continue during the balance of the college year.

Under the direction of Jerome C. Shaver, '34, business manager of Life, the competitors have begun their work by the solicitation of blanket subscriptions. However, in spite of the price reduction of the subscriptions, as advocated by Pi Delta Epsilon, the initial returns have not been satisfactory, and the drive is being continued into this week, although last Saturday was originally set as the deadline.

After the close of the subscription period, the work will be mainly concerned with the soliciting of advertising space for the publications, and this, also, will be an important factor in the final determination of the winning competitors. Together with the distribution and sale of individual copies, this will comprise the majority of the work during the remainder of the competition.

At present, the competing men are working as a unit, rather than for the individual publications, as in former years. In the past, it has been the custom of men to solicit subscriptions and advertising solely for the publication for which they were competing, and all efforts were thus centered on the more important positions. Now, however, the competitors are soliciting subscriptions for all three publications, Hamilton Life, the "Hamiltonian", and the "Continental", and the final choices will be made on the basis of the work done for each.

The competitors: Howard, Baker, Meagher, Durkee, Hause, Gould, Jensen, DeGraff, and Chapman, all '36.

Charles B. Rogers, Clinton, and Charles A. Miller, Utica, both trustees of the college, sailed for Europe last week for a few months' vacation.

DON'T MISS THIS
DINNER AT EIGHT, the play by George S. Kaufman and Edna Ferber, was produced by Sam H. Harris at the Music Box, New York, a year ago. A new edition of the book has just been published with illustrations reproduced by courtesy of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Corp. from the beautiful feature picture and showing splendid stills of the famous movie stars. The next time you are in town, drop in at Lambert Grant, Inc., and ask to see this book which will undoubtedly be one of the leaders on the fall list.

book issued annually by the junior class, and which makes its appearance on the campus each spring.

The price of $6.50 is to be extended over three installments for payment, $2.50 upon signing the agreement, $2.00 immediately before the Christmas recess, and the balance of $2.00 during the early part of next term. This is a radical departure from the unsatisfactory mode of payments made last year, calling for a payment of $7.50 to be made all at once at some indefinite date during the year.

The present number of subscriptions, approximately 100, combined with the 100 who have pledged to sign up in the very near future, falls short of the goal set by Pi Delta Epsilon. At least 250 subscriptions are needed to make the plan a success.

Prof. Fancher Adds Nineteen To Choir

Professor Paul A. Fancher, together with the assistance of Mr. Robert J. Hicks, college organist and a member of the Public Speaking department, has recently chosen the members of the Hamilton College choir for the year 1933-34. Nineteen new members were added to the choir, according to the list recently posted in the library. Some changes have been made since due to the college rule regarding the scholastic standing of the members in the choir.

In a statement made recently Professor Fancher said that he felt that it was one of the best groups he has ever started the year with, and one having a tone quality which makes him hopeful for an excellent year's work. The second bass section is particularly strong, with only two new members in its ranks. The men chosen for the choir number sixty: two in all. They are:

1st Tenors

Constantinides, Burke, Cooley, Folley, Thorp, Carson, Sanford, Avery, Cooper, Hill, Higginbotham, Brown, Weibel, Henninger, Hegner, Barry, R.

2nd Tenors

Osterhout, Bicknell, Brauns, Case, Freeman, Howard, Soper, Stockton, Vick, Williamson, Montgomery, McLaughlin, G. Jones, Massoth, Renwick.

15 Sophomores Scrub For Managing Posts

Fifteen sophomores answering the call for competition for the various athletic managing posts have been "scrubbing" two weeks under the supervision of Bill McGee, who conducts the competition this year. An active competition is indicated by the number of men responding, fifteen, which almost twice exceeds the number of posts to be filled.

The candidates are: McInerney, Rearick, Severson, Pierce, Doolittle, Soper, DeGraff, Dickerman, McKee, House, Thompson, Nichols, T. Jenks, Minor, Cochran.

Upon consideration of the services and merit of these fifteen competitors throughout the year, the eight managerships will be filled by a vote of the coaches, captains, and present managers.

Realizing the trend of the times, New York University seniors last spring estimated that they would be earning $5,000 annually ten years after graduation.

14 ALUMNI DEATHS OCCUR IN SUMMER

Fourteen alumni and one graduate of Hamilton College died during the past summer months. Paulding Foote Sellers, who was a graduate at the last Commencement was a victim of a heart attack while swimming at Schroon Lake on July 9. George Codner Fisher, a member of the Class of 1934, died just one week later after an illness of nearly half a year. Both were members of Chi Psi.

Death also claimed Chester S. Lord, '73, former managing editor of the New York Sun and Chancellor of the Board of Regents of the State of New York, on August 1. Last week, Conway Wing Young, '60, was stricken. For many years he was the oldest living alumnus of Hamilton College.

The complete list: Edwin J. Brown, '67; David G. George, '97; Arthur D. Scoville, '96; Paulding F. Sellers, '33; George C. Fisher, '34; W. Karl Mengerink, '14; Louis Boisot, '77; Chester Lord, '73; Arden VanLoon, '30; William Curtis, '71; William Thomson, '80; Joseph A. McConnell, '78; Willard D. Ball, '81; William D. Decker, '00; Conway Young, '60.

Charles S. Estabrook, Jr., '32, was last June married to Miss Martha W. Ingalls, of Fayetteville. He is a member of Chi Psi.

HARDING'S

(A chummy place to eat)

Happy Landings Students!

We'll meet you in the Men's Grill at Harding's. It's a swell place for the boys from college to get together. Of course, if you've got the femme along, there's the main dining room. But if you're going solo, it's the Men's Grill always!

BUFFALO TO INVADE CLINTON ON SATURDAY

In order to toughen further the players for the opening of the season two more scrimmages were arranged for this week. One was played this afternoon and another will be staged tomorrow afternoon. Yesterday's practice was light and devoted largely to a discussion of Saturday's scrimmage and the aspects of the Buffalo battle.

In spite of the 28 to 0 defeat sustained by the Bisons at the hands of Niagara on Saturday, the Buffalo aggregation is potentially powerful. The big gun in the visitor's offense will be Zuch, a 200-pound fullback, who is a triple-threat man. He was removed from the Niagara game injured during the first half and was unable to participate in the remainder of the contest. He is expected to play this coming Saturday, however.

The Bison's line averages 175 pounds while the Hamilton front wall will scale on the average of about 172 pounds. The Buffalo backfield, however, averages 180 pounds and is exceptionally fast. Captain Rich, Bison center, is the keystone in the Buffalo defense.

After the Buffalo game, on the following Saturday, the Hill team will meet Rochester at Rochester. The balance of the schedule is as follows: Oct. 21, Amherst at Clinton; Oct. 28, Hobart at Geneva; Nov. 4, R. P. I. at Clinton; Nov. 11, Haverford at Haverford, and Nov. 18, Union at Clinton.

The complete list of candidates for this year's squad is as follows: Armitage, Barden, Bell, Byrnes, Carmer, Cooper, Coughlin, Crego, Cronin, Doig, Dotzauer, Dreher, Edwards, Embler, Foreman, Freeman, Gatland, Gibbons, Goss, Gould, Hall, Hand, Harding, Hendricks, Jenks, Jones, Kellogg, LaGrange, LeFevre, McGee, MacLaren, McKenzie, Morrow, Nesbitt, O'Donoghue, Palen, Peck, Scanlon, Scobie, Smith, Speh, and White.

disappointing match, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5, in the third round.

The victories by Murphy and the doubles triumphs gave Hamilton third place in the team standing. Williams taking first, and the four-man team from Harvard placing second. Trailing Hamilton were many large colleges including Yale, Princeton, Columbia, N. Y. U., Colgate and Fordham.

The national intercollegiates held the following week on the courts of the historic Merion Cricket Club, found Murphy at his best after the experience of the previous tournament. Seeded third in this tournament, behind Jack Tidball of the University of California at Los Angeles, and Karl Kamrath, the flashy Texas star, Murphy fought his way up to the finals without the loss of a set, eliminating on the way Coughlin of Stanford, who later gave Sidney B. Wood such a hard fight in the nationals at Forest Hills, and Kamrath, the second seeded player. Meeting Tidball in the finals, the Hamilton ace extended the champion to the limit before bowing, 9-7, 8-6, 9-7. Murphy outplayed the California man in every respect but service, but Tidball by holding his own service and then playing for a break in Murphy's managed to take the match and championship.

Tidball had previously accounted for the exit from the tournament of Hamilton's other representative when he beat Weld, 6-1, 6-1, in the first round. Weld played his best tennis of the season to take two games from the champion, but Tidball had only to put on pressure to win at will.

The Navy's combination led by C. Elliott Loughlin, basketball and tennis star, eliminated the Hamilton team from the tournament, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4, after the Buff and Blue players had won their first round match from a powerful Duke University team.

Seventy-Nine Go Out For Freshman Sports

Over half the freshman class has answered the call for candidates for the fall sports. The number which have signed up for football constitute a good third of the freshman class with a total of fifty-five names. Those freshmen who will participate in booting the soccer ball are numbered about twenty, and the cross-country squad has drawn a few more, all three sports totaling more than seventy-nine out of the one hundred and fifty freshmen which have registered this fall.

The number of football candidates, provided they all continue in their resolve to play the game, will be greater than any year previous. Such enthusiasm on the part of the new members of the student body is encouraging to the coaches of the fall sports who are interested primarily in turning out a strong, well-rounded team each year.

PLANS ANNOUCED FOR MUSICAL ARTS

It is practically certain, however, that due to the tremendous past popularity of the Manhattan String Quartet and Eisenberger last year an effort will be made to obtain them again. There is also a possibility that a very promising young, German pianist will appear on the program this year. The Musical Arts Society also purchased approximately $200 worth of victrola records for the rental library, which is open to all the College students.

Those appointed in the various fraternity houses and societies to receive subscriptions are: Cooley, Price, Rutherford, Burke, Peck, Weld, Folley, Roehrick, Behr, La Grange, Noon and Katz. The students are earnestly requested to make known their intentions of joining immediately.

CARPE DIEM

Now that the freshmen have "met with the Dean", it's only fair that they step up and "meet with his right-hand man"—Carpe. Here, slimers, you can read all the odd things that happen about the campus. In these stout paragraphs professors are mere mortals, and pretty darn mere, at that. It's all in fun but, just the same, Carpe never put his trunk in the attic!

* * * * *

Overheard at the E. L. S. house during rushing week:
Freshman: Are you DeMolay?
Donley: No, I'm Donley.

* * * * *

It was with a lump in our throat that we saw the change that has come over the old College Well. The old oaken bucket has given way to a new-fangled affair that works up and down with a handle. Was a time you could go over and work off an hour of P. T. getting a cup of water off the bottom. But no more! It's an insult to college manhood. "Lily-cups will be next", sniffed one faculty wife, disdainfully.

* * * * *

Now that Stevie Nile has gone over to the six-day bicycle racers, Carpe suggests tomorrow's hymn to the tune of "Daisy, Daisy". One verse followed by a lusty "Amen". All together, boys—Love Songs of the Nile:

Stevie, Stevie, riding your bike so fine,
You'll be getting curvature of the spine.
You may ride swell no-handed,
But to put it clear and candid,
Despite your science, a bike for giants,
Ain't a bicycle built for you!

* * * * *

This department feels it would be most unfair to overlook Mr. Gummerson's triumphant entry into Chapel last Saturday, attired in pajamas and bathrobe, but we're somewhat at a loss to explain his subsequent hasty retirement. The memory is still green of times when pajamas were considered quite au fait for Chapel wear; under a topcoat they make quite a tidy ensemble for morning service.

* * * * *

Well, not so good this week. But one nice thing about our column—no matter how bad it is, it always gets read first. Now turn to the Administrative news. You may get a laugh there.

It's about Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it.

But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form.

Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match.

Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields.

The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way.

Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled. Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper.

There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.
